

ORACLE PRICE PROTECTION

KEY FEATURES:

- Simplified creation and maintenance of price protection agreements
- Real Time calculation of covered inventory
- Advanced pre approval processing for claims
- Automated price protection execution
- Prompt and accurate claims processing

Oracle Price-Protection enables manufacturers and distributors across industries to automate and control the multiple business processes necessary to create and execute a price protection transaction with updates to inventory, purchasing, costing and financials applications to ensure accurate, automated and seamless execution of processes necessary for a price protection agreement.

Improve Profitability Through Automation

Oracle Price Protection facilitates the orchestration and automation of back office transactions when price changes are received from suppliers. Oracle Price Protection enables the creation, approval and execution of price protection agreements executing processed flows through inventory calculations, updates to costing, purchasing, pricing modules and claim settlement. Tight integration to financial applications ensures accurate accounting.

Oracle Price Protection leverages BPEL and Fusion Middleware technology to enable a configurable execution of price protection agreements.

Streamline and Simplify Creation and Tracking

Change in the supply versus demand ratios for products along with technological innovation and advancements often result in changes to product pricing. When manufacturers change the pricing on products, the benefits need to be passed on to distributors and end customers.

Oracle Price Protection allows for a simple capture of agreement related information that includes supplier, product, price change, dates and inventory coverage periods.

Improve Accuracy in Inventory Calculation

An accurate assessment of the on hand inventory for covered products is critical for the approval and execution of a price protection agreement claim.

Oracle Price Protection automatically retrieves inventory quantities based on the effective time period provided in the price protection agreement in real time and provides comprehensive insight into inventory details.

The ability to adjust inventory is provided to maximize profitability with the ability to select additional inventory.

Improve Margins, Efficiency and Reduce Claim Processing Costs

The settlement of claims related to price protection agreements is a laborious process with a lot of back and forth between suppliers and distributors. This labor intensive process is usually manual, expensive and unapproved claims eat into profit margins. The Automated creation of claims and pre-approval significantly improves productivity and reduces processing costs. All accounting is accurately handled through the Oracle Subledger Accounting.

Improve Productivity with Automated Execution, Communication And Tracking

It is important to update applications such as purchasing, inventory, costing and pricing to reflect item price changes. All new transactions should reflect price updates to enable accurate claims processing and accounting. Oracle Price Protection automates updates to purchasing, costing, inventory and also provides notifications on any outbound price lists and promotions that could be impacted

All of these executions are automated and efficiently managed through the BPEL processes and leverages the Fusion Middleware.
