LogicaCMG scoops big prizes at the Oracle UK Partner Awards

LogicaCMG wins “Oracle Innovation Partner of the Year” and “Oracle and IBM Joint Partner of the Year Award”

LogicaCMG, one of Europe’s leading IT and business services companies, has won two awards at this year’s Oracle UK Partner Awards held in London on 13 February, including “Oracle Innovation Partner of the Year” and “Oracle and IBM Joint Partner of the Year”. Oracle has 1,500 partners in the UK and hosts an annual awards ceremony to recognise outstanding performance. LogicaCMG was the only company to win two out of the 13 awards.

The Oracle Innovation Partner of the Year was recognised LogicaCMG’s new Oracle BPO (Business Process Outsourcing) offering. The launch of this innovative BPO service partnership in September 2007, was the first of its kind in the UK, giving many private and public sector organisations the opportunity to change the way they deliver HR and payroll services to their employees. Through the partnership, organisations that select LogicaCMG as their HR & payroll service provider benefit from Oracle being deployed in a ‘software as a service’ fashion, on a ‘pay-as-you-go’ basis.

Stuart Turner, Senior Vice President Applications, Oracle UK Region, who presented the award, commented:

“LogicaCMG won this award thanks to its groundbreaking approach to Human Capital Management that aligned its high quality outsourcing service and virtual technology with Oracle Human Capital Management. LogicaCMG has developed a highly differentiated offering for large and mid-sized companies and public sector organisations throughout the UK.”

The Oracle and IBM Joint Partner of the Year award recognises LogicaCMG’s commitment to working with Oracle and IBM to bring innovative, high value solutions to customers. In particular, LogicaCMG has worked with both IBM and Oracle to develop an ODIS (On Demand Infrastructure Services) capability that is ideal for outsourcing clients.

Joe Hemming, chief executive of LogicaCMG UK said:

“The Joint Partner of the Year award endorses our capability to deliver Oracle-based business process outsourcing services as well as implement Oracle E-Business suite through our own Oracle Practice. It also recognises our innovation and capability in hosting solutions such as our new On-Demand ODIS offering, using IBM as the platform.

“Winning two out of the 13 Oracle partnership awards is a fantastic achievement and a real credit to talented and hard working teams at LogicaCMG. Over the years, we have built a solid working relationship with Oracle and we look forward to continuing to reap the rewards of our partnership. The awards demonstrate LogicaCMG’s capability to deliver innovative and workable solutions that give clients the business value they are looking for.”

LogicaCMG is an Oracle Certified Advantage partner with Oracle capability in consulting, implementation, hosting and BPO.
