paper receipts for cash transactions so they can submit them to a central accounts payable office. Even if they have the ability to scan their expense report, they still need to send the scanned images to a central location via email. These manual processes all add to the inefficiency of handling cash transactions for expense reporting.

With Oracle iReceipts, entering cash transactions and their appropriate descriptions is faster than ever! Using the iPhone touch screen, the GPS, and the digital camera, the user can quickly capture expense line items as they occur.

Capture Receipt Images with the iPhone Camera

Oracle iReceipts incorporates many of the innovative features already available on the iPhone. With Oracle iReceipts users can use the iPhone Camera to take pictures of their cash receipts and submit them without having to scan the paper receipts. This eliminates the need to keep track of paper receipts and then scan them later. With the iPhone's Camera, Oracle iReceipts users have a portable scanner for their cash receipts they can use right when the transaction occurs.

GPS Technology Automatically Tags Transaction Location

The GPS technology on the iPhone automatically locates the user's location and relays this information to Oracle iReceipts. Oracle iReceipts then automatically tags transactions with the user's location. This saves the user time by eliminating the need for manual data entry of select fields.

Complete Integration to PeopleSoft Expenses

Oracle iReceipts is completely integrated with PeopleSoft Expenses. With Oracle iReceipts, users can promptly submit cash receipt line items with seamless integration to PeopleSoft Expenses even while disconnected from a computer. All expense line items entered in Oracle iReceipts are transferred to PeopleSoft Expenses. Once cash line items are submitted from Oracle iReceipts, users receive real-time status updates of their submitted cash transactions. Users then know immediately if there is a problem with any of their cash transaction submission or if their submissions have been accepted into PeopleSoft Expenses.
