Capgemini Standardizes Management Processes with Single Global Instance of Business Applications

Capgemini is a leading provider of consulting, technology, and outsourcing services. The company, with operations in more than 30 countries, offers enterprise systems development and implementation, as well as analysis and consulting services. Capgemini also offers business process outsourcing for human resources, customer relationship management, financial, and supply chain management.

Challenges

- Improve the quality of project administration and financial reporting across the company’s global footprint
- Reducing management costs
- Improve visibility of financial information to drive more informed decisions
- Streamline IT maintenance

Solution

- Implemented a single global instance of Oracle E-Business Suite applications—replacing Capgemini’s legacy Baan system—to create a highly reliable and scalable financial management system that improves visibility of critical business data from Capgemini’s operations around the globe
- Introduced standardized financial and project administration processes, accelerating reporting and improving efficiency
- Improved the quality of financial reports, driving more informed decisions
- Centralized IT maintenance with a single global instance, reducing the cost of upgrading, patching, and deploying applications
