Universidad de los Andes Accelerates Academic Processes with an Integrated IT Infrastructure

The Universidad de los Andes (University of the Andes) is a leading independent educational institution that advocates for pluralism, diversity, tolerance, dialog, and respect for the ideas and beliefs of its students, faculty, and staff. The university, which has about 14,500 registered students, offers 28 undergraduate programs and 77 graduate programs.

Challenges

- Consolidate information systems in a single, reliable, flexible, and scalable database
- Automate and standardize operations to attract and retain students and have better access to faculty
- Make management of academic processes easier for students and graduates to improve operating efficiency
- Accelerate processing of administrative paperwork to improve services and levels of satisfaction

Solution

- Worked with Oracle Consulting and Itis Support, Ltda. to establish a flexible and scalable IT infrastructure
- Consolidated university information in a single, secure database with Oracle Database Enterprise Edition
- Automated and standardized administrative and human resources processes with PeopleSoft Enterprise Human Capital Management
- Developed a real time, online inquiry system for the departments of human resources and organizational management, improving operating efficiency
- Implemented PeopleSoft HRMS Portal Pack, providing a virtual scheme for over 50% of all courses
- Developed a Web environment, allowing students to register online
- Integrated applications with Oracle Application Server, improving management of academic processes for students and graduates
- Improved academic services, raising the level of satisfaction by 95%
