This low risk, high value service allows you to harvest the benefits of Oracle Technology to meet your organizational goals

Overview

Deploying new business applications includes scheduling and planning for activities as complex and diverse as custom development, data conversions, business process confirmations, acceptance testing, performance testing, and architecture validation. Mapping the business requirements to the functionality of the applications and the technology provided by the database and system environment are also substantial efforts. Oracle Consulting offers experienced, professional resources to help you successfully deploy your Oracle E-Business Suite applications in an Oracle Grid Computing environment.

Oracle E-Business Suite on Oracle Grid Quick Start service is a short-term engagement to help your technical team implement and support Oracle's E-Business Suite applications. Together, Oracle experts and your team will consider the options applicable to your business needs so that your business can take full advantage of the Oracle E-Business Suite applications features as well as the scalability and availability offered by Oracle Grid Computing. Oracle experts will help you identify and eliminate potential pitfalls to a successful implementation.

Scope of the Offering

Oracle E-Business Suite on Oracle Grid Quick Start service offers highly trained and experienced Oracle consultants who will collaborate with your technical team to deliver Oracle E-Business Suite applications running on Oracle Grid in your environment. Our expert consultants will work with your team to study your existing IT environment and planned deployment.

After planning the deployment, Oracle experts will install and upgrade the database, then cluster-enable your environment. The Oracle team will also cluster-enable your current Oracle E-Business Suite applications. Throughout this effort, the Oracle Consulting team will involve your technical team in the deployment and set up of the Oracle E-Business Suite applications running on Oracle Grid. Additionally, Oracle's experts will generate documentation that details the implementation so that your team has tailored reference material.
