16-Oct-08

Mumbai, INDIA - October 16, 2008

News Facts

Oracle Financial Services Software, a majority owned subsidiary of Oracle, today announced the launch of an Oracle FLEXCUBE Regional Support Center in Moscow that will provide support to Oracle FLEXCUBE customers in Russia and CIS Nations. The establishment of the support center signifies Oracle Financial Services Software's long term commitment to customers in the region.

The support center is staffed by Oracle Partner - Jet Infosystems.

Jet Infosystems, is a leading Russian systems integrator and service provider that has specialized in IT consulting, complex heterogeneous computing solutions and the development and implementation of banking software solutions.

Details

The support center will house technical and product consultants from Oracle Financial Services Software and Jet Infosystems

The Center, with Oracle FLEXCUBE installed, has a Russian speaking support desk to provide assistance on an on going basis for all implementation, maintenance and support requests from Oracle FLEXCUBE customers

To ensure that Oracle FLEXCUBE is current and meets local requirements, the Support Center will monitor and assess the regulatory environment and emerging market requirements in the region to provide inputs to the Oracle FLEXCUBE Development Organization.
