"The Oracle team and our team all pulled together to make our PeopleSoft Enterprise implementation happen. I was constantly thinking of contingencies but didn't have to execute any of them. So I guess the biggest surprise was that there were no surprises."

This means controlling spending even as you are seizing new business opportunities. You must also hire the right people; train and supervise them; stay on top of projects and optimize return on assets; accurately predict how much cash will be available while speeding up revenue recognition; and manage planning and budgeting processes across the enterprise.

Reduce Risk and Lower TCO

Although PeopleSoft Enterprise solutions can help you achieve your strategic goals, you need to implement them in a way that doesn't put undue strain on your IT resources.

Your existing IT staff may not have the time to deal with a large-scale software implementation, not to mention ongoing maintenance. Experienced IT personnel who understand your business are difficult to find and costly to hire. And rather than spending money on additional infrastructure, your business could invest its capital in other, higher priority, initiatives.

PeopleSoft Enterprise On Demand delivers low-risk hosted enterprise applications with little or no additional upfront investment. With PeopleSoft Enterprise On Demand, you can increase sales, cut costs, and—most importantly—focus on your core business rather than technology. That's why companies large and small throughout a broad range of industries trust PeopleSoft Enterprise On Demand.
