

Oracle Partners

Our Commitment to PeopleSoft Partners

Oracle is committed to providing unwavering support for your business and your customers' satisfaction and retention.

Oracle is committed to 100% customer retention and satisfaction.

We want you to be confident that your customers will be retained and that their satisfaction is one of our top priorities. The combined companies are dedicating significant resources to the support of your existing customers, so that the impact of the integration on their business is minimized and your relationships with these platform-specific customers are protected.

Oracle is committed to supporting your customers' requirements.

To support your efforts to serve customers, the combined companies will offer you the best and brightest talent in the enterprise software industry, dedicated to ensuring maximum customer satisfaction. The strength of the combined R&D organizations will deliver on existing product development commitments and accelerate innovation to offer customers superior solutions in the future. The combined alliances and channels, sales, and professional services organizations will offer customers new and expanded solutions to solve their business needs.

Oracle is committed to offering you opportunities for new growth.

The combined companies have begun work on defining a successor product set using Oracle products and infrastructure as the foundation, and incorporating the best modules, features, and usability characteristics of Oracle and PeopleSoft. Through Oracle's Information Architecture, partners will realize additional opportunities for resale, migration, integration, hosting, and other services. With the expanded functionality and enhanced ability to solve business problems, you will also be able to offer customers hosted applications, opening up new market and channel business.

Oracle is committed to the growth and future of our partnership.

Throughout the integration process, partners will be a key element of the transition planning. Partners are essential to Oracle's economy and growth strategy. The foundation for partners' success with us is Oracle PartnerNetwork, a partner community of more than 14,000 worldwide, a management portal, an interaction center for partner support, and a global business program. Through partnership with Oracle, you gain access to Oracle's premier products for additional growth opportunities, education, technical services, and highly specialized go-to-market engagements.
