Oracle Buys BlueKai

Extends the World's Largest Marketing Cloud with the Leading Data Management Platform to Personalize Marketing Programs and Customer Experience

On February 24, 2014 Oracle announced that it has signed an agreement to acquire BlueKai.

The transaction has closed.

BlueKai is the industry's leading cloud-based big data platform that enables companies to personalize online, offline and mobile marketing campaigns with richer and more actionable information about targeted audiences. BlueKai's Data Management Platform (DMP) centrally organizes a company's customer and audience data in the cloud to help implement personalized marketing campaigns across all channels and deliver better results and higher marketing ROI.

BlueKai also runs the world's largest 3rd party data marketplace to augment a customer's proprietary data with actionable information on more than 700 million individuals. Approximately 300 customers across multiple industries rely on BlueKai to maximize their marketing investment.

BlueKai will be integrated with both Responsys for B2C marketing automation and Eloqua for B2B marketing automation in order to deliver orchestrated and personalized customer interactions across all marketing activities and channels. BlueKai combined with Oracle's Marketing and Social solutions provide customers with the ability to build the richest user profiles combining information from first party and third party sources including media, advertising, social, and mobile sources. The combination will also allow both B2B and B2C organizations to build unmatched personalized cross-channel campaigns and customer interactions across e-mail, web, social, mobile, advertising and syndicated content channels.

The Oracle Marketing Cloud is an integral part of the Oracle

Customer Experience Cloud which includes commerce, sales, service, social and marketing. Together, the Oracle Customer Experience Cloud enables a seamless and integrated exceptional customer experience from the first touch point through the entire customer life cycle.

The BlueKai team brings significant knowledge and capabilities to Oracle and is expected to continue facilitating excellence in data-driven marketing at Oracle.
