ORACLE®

The effective management of financial aid is critical to the success of any college or university. Given the complexity of the process, coupled with financial challenges being the top reason given for student drop out, it's no wonder schools struggle with managing student satisfaction and outcomes.

The good news? Oracle offers an answer—with a built-in advantage.

TURN FINANCIAL AID CHALLENGES INTO STRATEGIC OPPORTUNITIES

As a higher education executive, financial aid is just one concern among many. You must also focus on attracting the right students, maintaining or increasing enrollment, improving student satisfaction, and ensuring quality student outcomes such as more graduations, fewer drop-outs, and less borrowing.

Managing financial aid efficiently and effectively has traditionally been viewed as just another challenge to overcome. With Oracle Student Financial Planning Cloud Service, however, you can turn the financial aid process into a strategic capability for your institution—a capability that can help you achieve all of your goals.

Using a rules-based, expert system architecture, Oracle's solution accelerates the financial aid process by automating hundreds of rules and qualifications-with each student in real time. With this capability, you can improve a wide range of performance metrics and outcomes that tie directly to financial aid such as:

- Reduce processing costs and speed up workflows for timely, accurate student aid with more advisory capabilities.
- Enable regulatory compliance via expert system-rule automation.
- Promote responsible borrowing yielding higher graduation rates.
- Produce system-generated corrective suggestions and proactive interventions for improved outcomes.
