

Conquer Federal costing with Oracle Enterprise Performance Management Cloud

Recent budget cuts and heightened scrutiny over working capital funds, shared services, and corporate support spending has put significant stress on agencies' offices of finance. Oracle Government

Success hinges on how closely government agencies can stay within budget and the ability to make insightful business decisions that deliver value. As federal spending evolves, these decisions are harder to make, and changes more difficult to manage. The accuracy of an agency's underlying, enterprise-wide systems that support these decisions and analytics become essential for their future success; as is a deep understanding of the federal budget, the agency's set of stakeholders, and existing governance and processes.
