Startup Ingenuity. Enterprise Expertise. Global Resources.

"Oracle opens up new opportunities to take our company to the next level. With compute power and accessibility via cloud we can really scale up complex science technology, but also make it accessible within education, research and beyond."

– Becky Sage
CEO and Co-founder,
Interactive Scientific

"Oracle's resources, technologies and expertise will help provide a catalyst for our business. It's an incredibly exciting time for our space as everyday we see increased data and intelligence capabilities that are transforming the ability to perform predictive maintenance on mission-critical machines and equipment."

- Amnon Shenfeld
CEO, 3DSignals

"Partnering with Oracle has helped us fast-track growth with business development and technology enhancements. Partnerships with Oracle Taleo and now Oracle Scaleup will enhance our performance and capabilities as our business rapidly grows globally."

– Rich Joffe
CEO, Stella.ai

In the global marketplace, one size does not fit all. That is especially true for today's vibrant, diverse and competitive startup ecosystem. Oracle is reimagining enterprise and startup relationships through true partnerships that foster collaboration, co-development, and inspire global innovation.

Startup Ingenuity. Enterprise Expertise. Global Resources.

Oracle's global startup mission is to provide enriching, collaborative partnerships to enable next-generation growth, business development, and drive cloud-based innovation for startups throughout all stages of their journey. To that end, Oracle offers residential and nonresidential programs that power cloud-based technology and leverage strategic ecosystems that enable co-creation and co-innovation across startups, customers and Oracle.

What Makes Oracle Different

- We don't take equity
- Run by our global R&D team
- World-class product and partner ecosystems
- Engagement opportunities with Oracle's 400,000+ customers – a path to grow your business

Residential & Nonresidential Startup Programs

- Oracle Startup Cloud Accelerator is the residential program enabling early to later-stage startups with a more hands-on and immersive six-month program.

- Oracle Scaleup Ecosystem is a nonresidential, virtual-style program designed for mature startups and venture capital and private equity portfolio companies to enable hypergrowth and scale.

"We are always exploring new opportunities and resources that can accelerate innovation and growth for our portfolio companies. Oracle has a formidable cloud-based technology stack, product expertise and a thriving customer and partner base. Collaborating with Oracle Scaleup has the potential to benefit both our companies and the broader global technology ecosystem."

– Steve Herrod
Managing Director, General Catalyst
