Kirk –

Call me when you land. We've been told that we can't use the following line.

"Intel added that it at no time communicated to Oracle a change in commitment to the future of the Itanium processor family."

This is a MAJOR, MAJOR issue. We need to be able to tell the market that you never told Oracle about EOL plans for Itanium. This is a CRITICAL element of the HP/Intel relationship. I don't view this as optional.
